

Do you want to develop contacts within higher education administration?

Do you want to establish a relationship with higher education administrators who influence or make business decisions for their campus?

If you do business with the higher education community, or contemplate a relationship with a College or University...please read on...

WHO: The Central Association of College and University Business Officers (CACUBO), is made up of over 600 Public, Private, Two-year and Four-year Higher Education Institutions within thirteen Midwestern States.

WHAT: The 97th Annual Meeting of CACUBO, Cincinnati, Ohio

WHERE: Situated on the Ohio River, the luxurious Cincinnati Marriott at RiverCenter boasts deluxe accommodations featuring stunning skyline views. An enclosed skywalk connects The Northern Kentucky Convention Center to this premier Cincinnati Riverfront hotel recognized for hosting successful corporate events.

WHEN: October 4-6, 2009

HOW: Join the Information Exchange Program for CACUBO Business Partners by reserving exhibit space and/or selecting a sponsorship opportunity.

WHY: Meet and greet hundreds of representatives from the College and University financial community and share your latest innovations and expertise in products and services with higher education administrators who have the authority to make recommendations and decisions, and in turn, learn about the challenges and opportunities these institutional representatives face...that's why we call this "The Information Exchange Program"!

Please join us in Cincinnati to take advantage of this opportunity to build relationships on an informal and informative basis with our members.

See you in Cincinnati!
